SEED COLLECTING

The whole school participated in a seed collecting activity in Scotsburn. We collected black wattle, golden wattle, spear grass and she-oak seeds to dry and propagate ready to plant. We are also collecting the seed from our sunflowers so we can plant them too.

All the students have settled well and are working hard in their literacy and numeracy programs. We look forward to a busy and challenging year ahead.

Twenty members gathered for the February meeting and joined in the comradeship of the group.

Concern had been raised at the deterioration of the Cambrian Hill Memorial Avenue in the Golden Plains Shire. The shire has inspected the Avenue with an arborist and the sub branch awaits the outcome of plans to rejuvenate the trees in the avenue especially ahead of the Centenary of Anzac .

The annual RSL golf day will be held at the Buninyong Golf Club on Saturday 20th April.

The most recent statue in Sturt Street Ballarat is of Pompey Elliott. Born at west Charlton in 1878, educated at Ballarat and Ormond Colleges, champion athlete, barrister and solicitor and member of the Upper House. Served in South Africa 1900-02, awarded the DCM, commissioned and Mentioned in Dispatches. In August 1914 appointed to command the 7th Battalion, wounded at the Gallipoli landing 25/4/15. Commenced service on the Western front in July 1916. He fought in most of the great battles of the AIF.

Unable to change the tactics at Fromelles but had victory at Polygon Wood and Villers-Bretonneux. As a brigadier-general it was common to find Pompey Elliott in the front lines gathering intelligence and encouraging his troops. He died in 1931.

Celebrations in Ballarat on 19th June will honour one of Australia's finest military leaders.

Next time when you have time to stroll along the statues in Sturt Street, take note of the number and variety.

A bright winter day is ideal for strolling along the statues in the Sturt street median. Clear of the shadows they now stand sharp and represent many military and community highlights that have shape our community.

BUNINYONG SENIOR CITIZENS CLUB

President David is asking members to submit possible day-trip destinations for consideration. Also asking if any members have suggestions regarding a different form of entertainment that could be included in our Tuesday's routine to add further variety to these occasions.

Our next day trip is scheduled for the 13th when participants will be taken to Ararat and enjoy lunch there, as well as the scenery en route etc.

During February's Craft Day June taught us to make a cute little rabbit that will hold an Easter Egg on its back. On March 19th she will teach us to make a novelty ornament featuring a footballer dressed in club colours and sitting on a stool. Thanks again June!

The regular Tuesday lunches, games and competitions are, once more, proving popular this year. Last month's (February's) competition was for the prettiest handkerchief and was won by Hazel and Phyllis. The competition for March is for a pair of novelty salt and pepper shakers.

Any reader 55 years of age or more, who would like to join us, will be warmly welcomed by this club.

The Golden Plains Miner 31st January 2013 announced the appointment of their regular column contributor, Roland Rocchiccioli, as Chief Selector for the Australian XI and Buninyong Village XI marmalade challenge to be sent to England in February. A photograph showed June Henderson and Lyn Fleming cataloguing some of the entries that were received from all around Australia.

BUNINYONG MARMALADE ASHES JUDGING

Cr Peter Innes was photographed addressing the large crowd in attendance. The best in show winner was Melbourne's Janet Macdonald with her grapefruit marmalade. Buninyong Village XI entries that were sent off to Cumbria for the International Marmalade Awards included June Henderson, Russell Luckock, Beth Smith, Lyn Fleming, Dorothy Pond, Shiela Etchells, Corina Till and Barbara Dennis. The Australian XI was comprised of all interstate entries. Good luck everyone.

The Golden Plains Miner 21st February, 2013 page 11 had a smiling photograph, taken outside the Buninyong Post Office, of Roland Rocchiccioli, Chief Selector of the XI's, Mark Yates, a local resident formerly from Cumbria and local Ballarat town crier Brian Whykes with the box of marmalade ready to be posted to Cumbria. The box sported a metre high boxing kangaroo with joey, both wrapped up with a fine wool scarf to keep off the winter chill in England. It is stated that the Australian XI will be met at the Cumbrian Post Office by Paddington Bear. Proceeds from the entry fees have been donated to Ballarat Home Hospice Care.

JURIES MAY HAVE A SAY IN SENTENCING OF CRIMINALS

In February the Ballarat Courier had an article commenting on the State Labor opposition's plan to see juries have a say in sentencing. The judge would refer to the jury before handing down his sentence. Helen Cooper was approached in the street for her view on the matter.

Buninyong Masonic Lodge Historic Item Returns to Lodge

A framed photograph of WBro E Gullock as Worshipful Master of Buninyong Lodge in 1909 was returned to the Lodge by the Gullock family at the February meeting. WBro Gullock, a miner and living at Hiscocks was a joining member (already a Freemason at another Lodge), to Buninyong Lodge on 4th November 1903 and continued his membership until drawing a clearance on 10.12.1921. Current Lodge Master Graham Williamson said it was gratifying to receive an item of historic importance for safekeeping at the Lodge. He encouraged other families who may have items relating to the Buninyong Lodge to consider giving the lodge custody of them if the family has no further interest.

Grand Lodge Ceremonial Weekend

The catering skills of Sturt-

Buninyong Lodge and its No23 Social Committee are well known in Masonic circles.

The 2013 Grand Lodge Ceremonial Team training weekend in Ballarat on 16/17th February provided another catering opportunity for the Lodge. The Lodge provided a Sunday lunch for around 100 at the Masonic Centre in Barkly Street, Ballarat and showcased typical country hospitality. Ten Lodge members assisted with the weekend training at the Buninyong Masonic Centre on Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning. Members of the Grand Lodge Team took the opportunity to purchase marmalade from the Buninyong Marmalade Fair.

The Most Worshipful Grand Master Bob Jones expresses his thanks for the lunch and assistance to the training by local Freemasons.

Sturt Buninyong members Alby Peart, Harold George John Addicott and Ian Judd await the commencement of the training session.

Wide selection of marmalades to tempt the tastes. Lodge Provides Judging Venue Judging of the 130 entries in the 2013 Buninyong Marmalade Fair took place in Buninyong Masonic Hall on 2nd February.

Fine quality marmalade presented a challenge to the judging panel.

Working from a Wider View

My nephew Mark's Facebook photo showed a happy scene: his daughters enjoying industrial-strength sundaes while sitting outside an ice-cream parlour under a huge umbrella.

Checking his message about the photo's top right-hand corner, we then noticed two policemen handcuffing a suspect, with his back to the camera. While Mark was focusing on his foreground, he was completely unaware of his new voluntary crime reporting role!

Our ability to concentrate on daily routines, or on handling our crises, often blinds us to others' needs or hopes—even right under our noses. Yet without our concentrating, we could become so overstimulated that we never get anything done.

"The eye of God" is a writer's term for a story's overall perspective and setting. This "eye" keeps knitting seemingly-unrelated factors together, so you can't put the book down. Or it conceals these factors until a full disclosure solves the mystery—or a punch line reveals the joke.

If you've ever been criticised or—more happily—praised for something you have either forgotten or never knew about; you will have experienced the eye of God up close and personally.

For nothing escapes God's notice—bad or good. He exposes our pretences, but he also sees (and believes in) our potential. And while we live through our own autobiographies, he invites us to plug into his belief in our potential. Then even routines can be energised by hope that's generous enough to stimulate hope and healthy confidence among others within our own circles of influence.

130 entries from our Marmy Army – you!

Marmalade entries came from every State for the Buninyong Marvellous Marmalade Fair held on Sunday 3rd February, 2012 in the Buninyong Town Hall.

From Perth region, Bondi Beach, Georgetown on north Queensland's Savannah Way – and Relbia in Tasmania. There was a strong local contingent, plus Creswick, Melbourne, Mansfield as well as the enthusiastic Blayney mob in central NSW who promised to come down in support if they were selected in the Australian XI !

Entry fees totalled over $1,000 and we were able to donate a cheque totalling $1,024 to Ballarat Home Hospice Care and $8 each to two other palliative care Hospices that were nominated. This was a great result and the Hospice aged care organisation was extraordinarily grateful.

We were very fortunate in having three expert CWA judges Barbara Porter, Sue Gass and Janette O'Keefe to judge all entries and score these out of 20 points. Deputy Vice President of CWA Victoria, Dorothy Coombe, addressed the crowd on the day and spoke of the CWA's training and accreditation program for Judges as well as the benefits of this marmalade initiative to community.

The Judges awarded points to each anonymous entry - for Presentation (max. 2); Colour (5); Consistency, texture, quality (6) and Flavour, Aroma (7) totalling 20. They also gave comments if they felt they could help the marmalade-maker to improve – perhaps we could all increase our scores by a mere 1 or 2 each year?

And now to the XIs and Chief Selector, Roland Rocchiccioli, thespian, raconteur, playwright, interviewer of the King of Greece, Shirley Bassey and a couple of 007s amongst many others. Roland selected both XIs in conjunction with Barbara, Sue and Janette in what was a delightful example of camaraderie and unanimity! The XIs are two powerful teams – especially the Australian XI with two perfect scores!

The task, however, is not necessarily to select the eleven highest scores but to select an all-round team - Australia wouldn't send an Ashes Test team of all fast bowlers or spinners or batsmen. The aim being to slip in a googly or two, some spin, something fast and good with the gloves. Hopefully the English will be bamboozled! You can see that Buninyong has had a bit of fun over the past few years, when, after we lost the Ashes, we challenged our friendly adversaries the Poms to something else they claim to have invented!

We are most grateful to Barbara, Sue, Janette and Roland for the professional job that they all did. Our thanks also go to all entrants and to our volunteer Committee who have done a tremendous amount of work to put on the Buninyong Marvellous Marmalade Fair for 2013.

We hope you will put away your 2-jar entries that you make this year and send them to Buninyong by Australia Day 2014 - and thank you again for supporting the Fair and Hospice aged care.
